FALCON

Dedication

It is with pleasure that we dedicate this year's FALCON to our star, Mrs. In Callaway.

Mrs. Callaway came to us in the fall of 1946. Louisiana lost a wonderful teacher, woman, and friend when Mrs. Callaway journeyed to The Pacific Northwest and settled on the southernmost part of Whidbey Island.

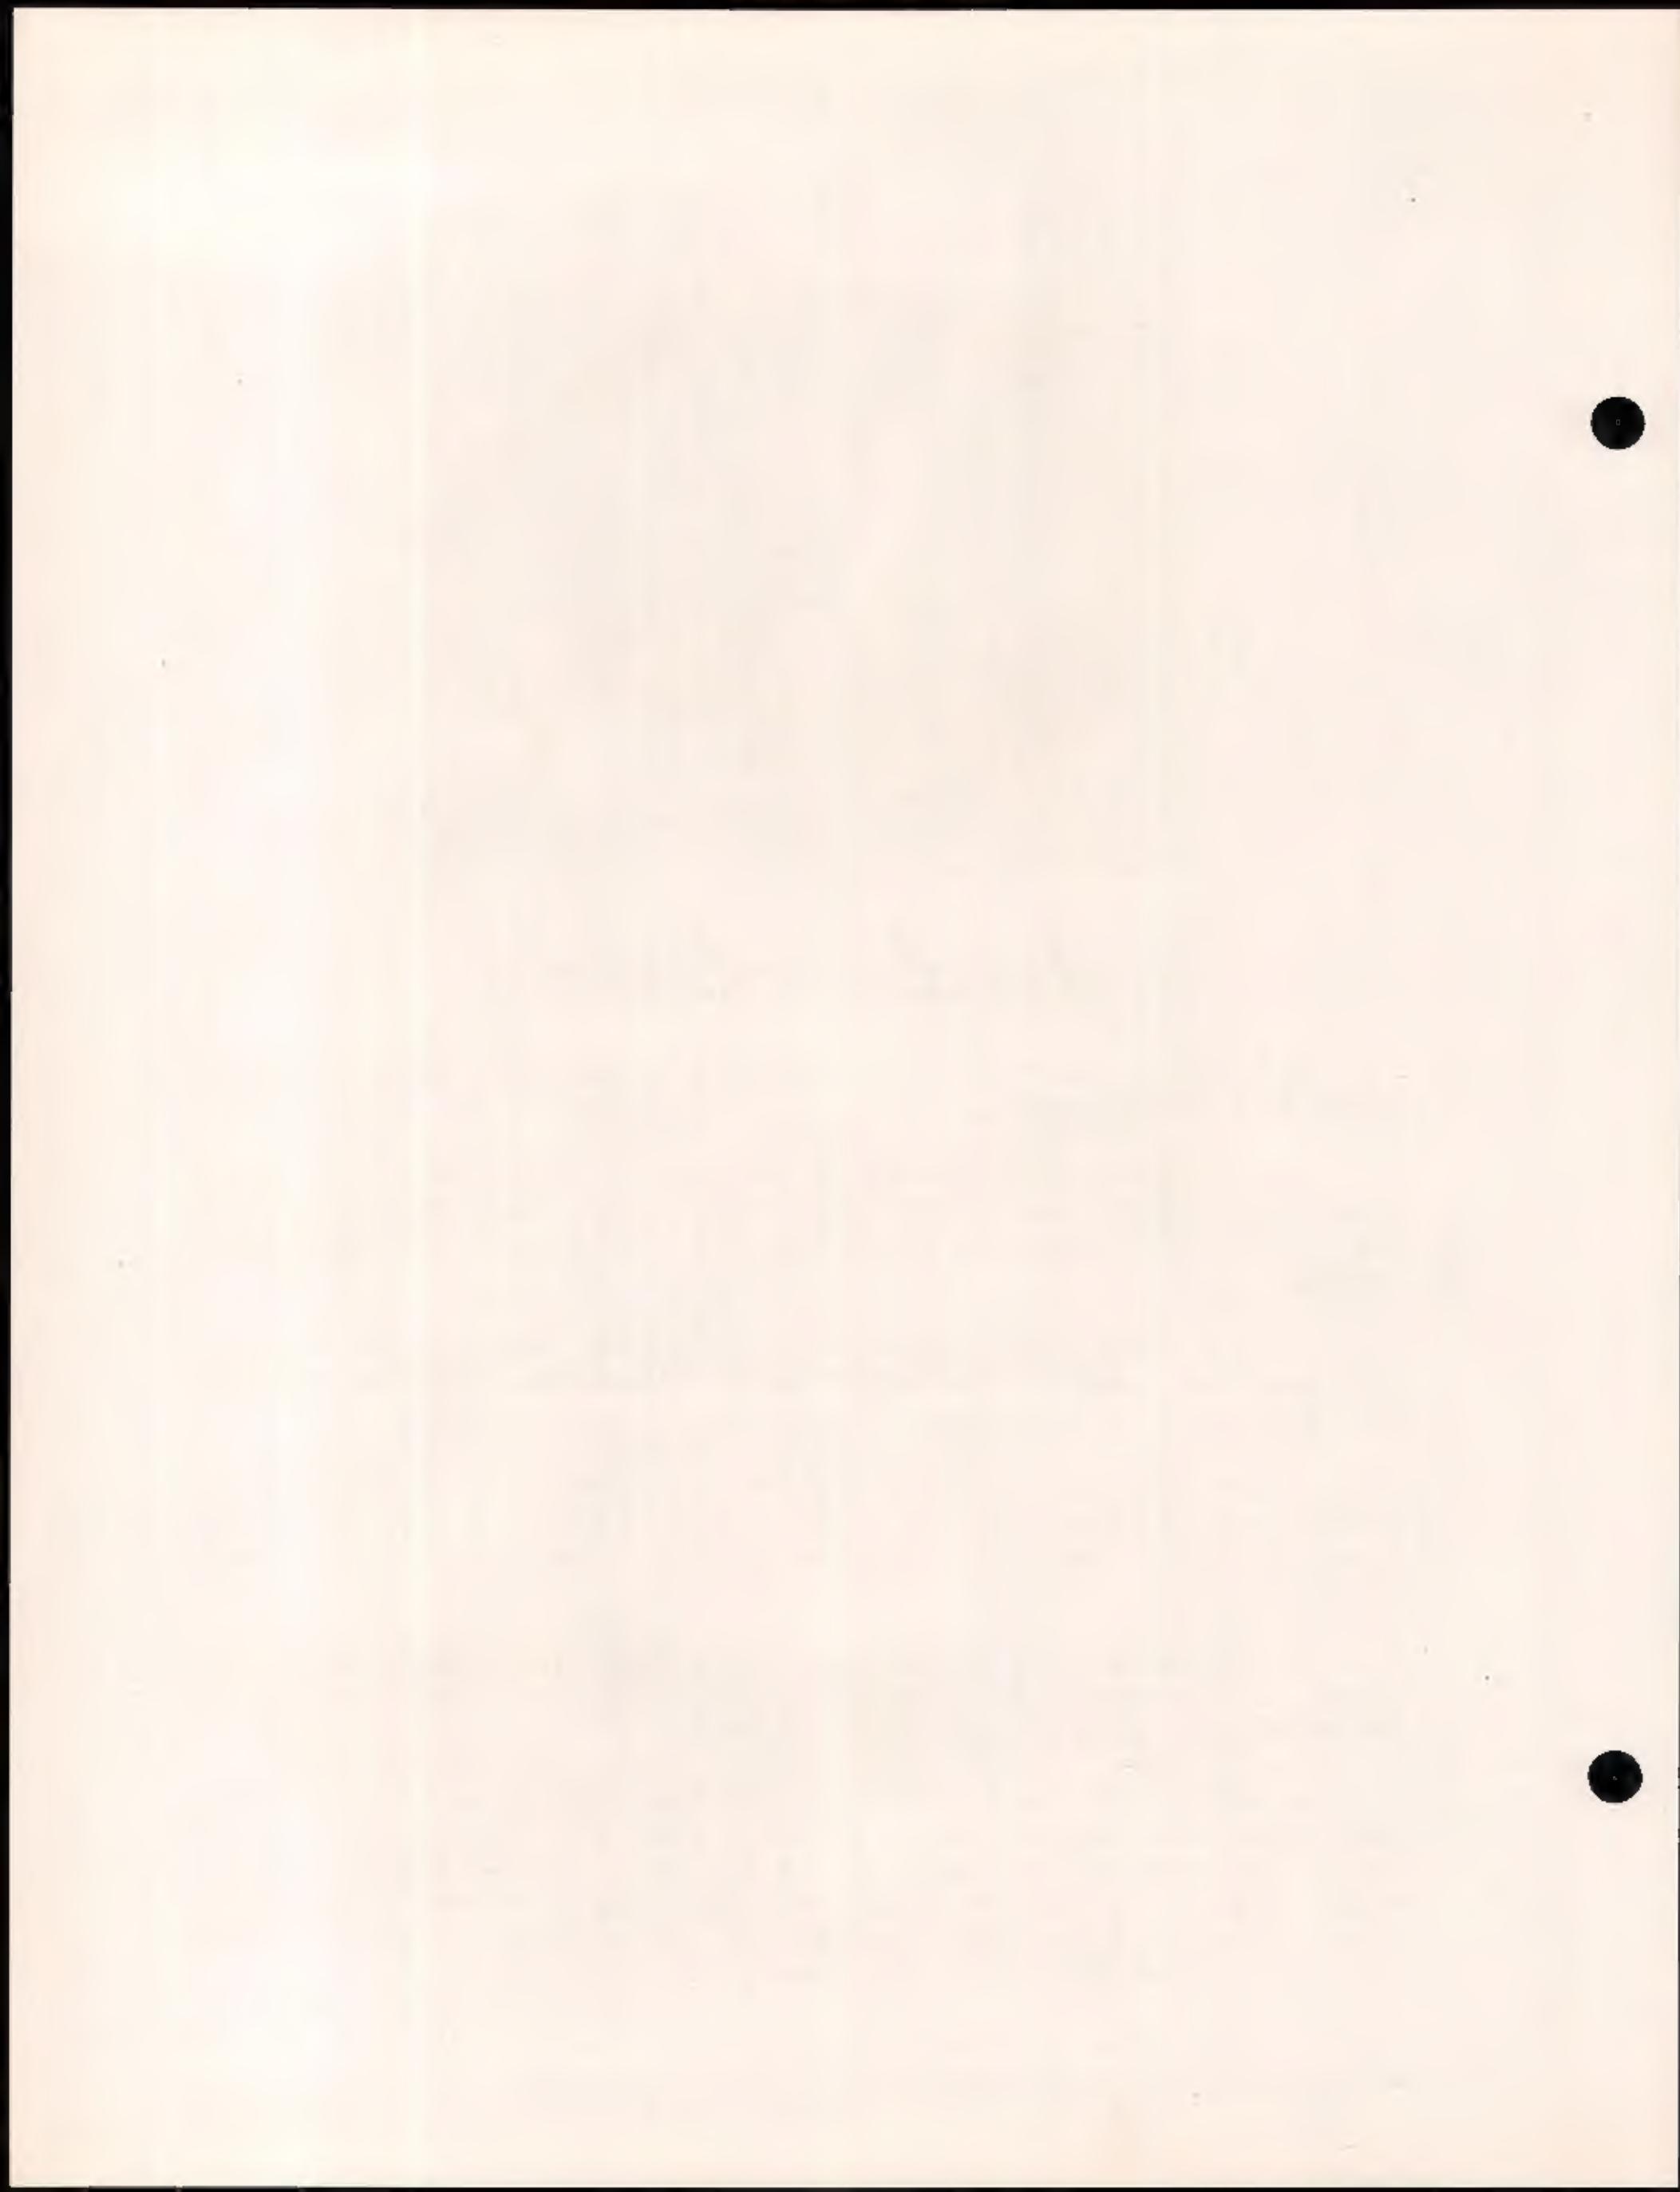

She has studied hard and long to be a good teacher. Her advanced training was taken at the University of Washington where she received her Bachelor of Arts degree.

A few of her teaching assignments have included the combined classes of fourth and fifth grades, seventh grade, eighth grade English, all girls' physical education classes and an all school counselor.

In addition to all her school activities she finds time to help anyone in distress. She could also be called the school nurse, for her knowledge of first aid keeps her busy.

An example of the love she has for the students is her ability to bring one small sandwich and never find time to eat it. Even during lunch hours she is "pestered" by the students, but she doesn't seem to mind. She is the sponsor of GAA and Grade School Recreational Activities. Almost all her time is spent, if not with the students, thinking and worrying for and about them.

To you, Mrs. Callaway, in view of all your help and love for the students, we respectfully dedicate this 1954 FALCON.

Class Prophecy

The time was June, 1964. My mind was wandering into dreams of where my classmates were of the class of '54.

I drove along in my car to the town of Langley where my home is. I parked my car and strolled casually into town. It was night and the moon was shining brightly. As I walked past the graveyard, I heard the sound of a shovel scraping on rocks. The sound horrified me. I was tempted to make a mad dash back to my shanty and call it a night when my curiosity got the better of me. I slowly made my way in through the entrance of the cemetery. The scraping noise sounded closer. It was then in the moonlight I saw none other than Ronnie Green with Ethel Knaplund and Payton Rudd holding pointed guns at him. Ron was digging up the grave of a man he had buried that day. As I remembered, Ronnie had always liked a little excitement, but this was going too far.

I shuddered, collected by nerve, and walked over to ask Ron what his reason was for digging up this grave. Ronnie replied that that night he had suddenly realized he had buried Donna Olsen by mistake. Donna, I remembered, was always getting into some sort of jam, but she usually managed to get out of them unharmed. The tables must have finally turned. Ronnie then said that his life was being threatened by Payton for trying to break up Ethel and Payton's marriage. It seems that Ethel and Ronnie had been having a secret rendezvous, but Donna had found out their secret. Ronnie's play then was to get rid of Donna in a hurry. He did.

This riddle proved too much for me, so I strolled on further into the now booming town of Langley. As I got into town I heard screaming, singing and who-knows-what-else coming out of an upstairs window.

Looking up, I narrowly averted disaster from a flying frying pan, a rolling pin, and Ricky Day, all following in close succession.

I thought this would be his end but he bounced a little, rose, and danced lightly toward me. At this moment, more yelling, Joyce Rasmussen, and another frying pan advanced menacingly toward us. Ricky crouched tremblingly behind me, but as Joyce got closer she recognized me. This calmed her completely—to Ricky's relief. After we talked awhile, they kissed, and made up, and walked arm and arm back to their docile domicile.

With this case closed, I continued on into town and heard Hawaiian music, so I strolled into the newly remodeled Fountain Cafe. I glanced around and saw, to my dismay, Pat Camandona trying to do the hula up on the counter. This amazed me, but even more, Lloyd Heggenes and Mickey Lanktree were sitting on the floor dazed—amazed.

I groped to a seat and questioned the waitress, who I noticed was Barbara Becker. I couldn't believe it! She was now at least six feet tall. She explained that my friend Pitter went into these spells more often than not. When she did, Mickey and Lloyd, (who didn't have anything else to do) spent all their time watching her.

Barbara then said Lloyd and Mick never came out of the daze for at least 48 hours and were never capable of eating anymore than pizza pies during these spells.

I wished Barbara the best of luck and quickly made my way out of there. Suddenly, I slammed into Dennis Wilson's pushcart. It seems that Dennis had been courting Ruth Saylor. She demanded he pull her around Langley in one of those carts. The woman sits, the man pulls. Looked like a wonderful life for Ruth, so I left Dennis to his troubles.

As I went on down the street I noticed a sign saying "Gary's special on baby diapers." I looked through the window and there were Gary Dolstad and Marion Hapeman with at least six kids flocked around them. I went in and was very surprised to learn that Gary and Marion Hapeman had been secretly married right after graduation. They had been living in Siberia when Gary started his business selling babies' diapers and other infants' wear. Marion said that her and Gary's children used most of their merchandise. Gary just smiled at her sweetly.

It was getting late so I flagged a taxi. As it pulled up I noticed it looked like some jet job. It looked awful, but there was nothing more in sight so I hopped in. Who should be behind the wheel but Berna

124102
Erickson who, I found, drove like a maniac!!! Berna said she got her job after Lem threw her over for Pat Brydges when Lem refused to wear his new long-flannel underwear.

Berna said Lem sojourned to Alaska after graduation and told Berna to supply him with red flannels. She couldn't do this because of her low paying job, so Lem had been seeing Pat Brydges.

I asked Berna where Brydges lived so she drove me to the waterfront. I wondered if Pat were going down to sea in ships. I soon found out. As we pulled up, I noticed a girl throw a fish net over the side and then dive into the water in an attempt to scare the fish into her net. I had seen that it was Pat and figured that she was going down to the sea in fish instead of to fish. It all was proving too much so I asked Berna to take me home.

After I got home, it was too early to go to bed so I decided to go for a ride on my bicycle. I had ridden pretty far when I came to the steepest hill on Whidbey and started hitting a mighty pace. I was going faster and faster till all of a sudden my brakes locked and I went flying straight at a farm house beside the road. As I landed, I made a big splash in what I immediately found was a pig pen. I pulled myself out and started walking toward the house. I noticed about ten little kids peeking around each corner. There in the middle stood Marian Burley washing out some of Gary's imported diapers. She had a baby strapped on her back. As I glanced in the house, there sat Johnny Erikson (they had just had twins) with another baby watching the basketball star All American Charlie Bennett on T.V.

Before they noticed me, I decided to stroll to the beach and get cleaned up. I saw a big ship at the dock where servicemen were going on and off.

It was then that I noticed Robin Christoe and Donna Hasch tenderly kissing. It looked as though Robin had just returned and as though Donna were still waiting patiently for her sailor boys when they come and go.

Glancing to my left, I saw Marlene Engstrom with tears running down her cheeks as she fondly bid farewell to her lover-boy, Jerry Saylor, as he departed for unknown places.

Just then the Captain, James Wallace, hollered, "Cut the necking, you swabs, or I'll have my first mate, Jim Smith, throw you in the booby hatch!"

Out of the corner of my eye I saw something moving rapidly down the beach. As it came closer, I saw that it was they. They stopped as they saw me and guess who they were, Coach Dave Braathen training his track star, Della, for the Olympic team that year.

The beach was getting pretty well smoothed down by this time, and Dave was raring to try out his new hotrod on his personal Aurora Speedway.

With this, it seemed to me I had had enough adventure so I wearily moved my sore feet back towards home.

Senior Class History

1242402

Twelve long years have passed for the class of '54. It seems like ages since the riotous, boisterous, bombastic, loquacious, reverberatory, vociferous, pompous class of '54 was a bashful little first grade.

The grade school doors were opened to forty-two members in 1942. Eleven of our senior class were there on that day. Barbara Becker, Marian Burley, Marlene Engstrom, Marion Hapeman, Donna Hasch, Donna Olsen, John Erikson, Ronnie Green, Lloyd Heggenes, Lem Trumbull, and Jim Wallace all greeted Mrs. Olsen. The girls hid behind their mothers' skirts while the boys galloped in with their squirt guns ready for action.

Jerry Saylor and David Braathen saddled their shetland ponies and trotted in for the second grade.

Three more cowpokes came riding in one bright and sunny day during the third grade. Berna Erickson, Mickey Lanktree, and Jim Smith were their names.

Della Taylor, Ruth Saylor and Joyce Rasmussen came on the scene in the fourth grade. Their reasons, you guessed it, to start a goodies ring.

The trend was too great--the great magnet was still pulling. Payton Rudd, Gary Dolstad, and Dennis Wilson were all attracted by the magnet in the fifth grade.

Gary Dolstad escaped. By the sixth grade David Braathen was let out on probation. The great magnet was in a slump until the eighth grade when Ethel Knaplund came galloping in on her cayouse.

High school proved a touchy proposition for The Great Magnet. Ricky Day and Robin Christoe walked the plank and ended up in our Freshman class. Did they squeal? Wow-wee, they are still griping.

Pat Camandona, the G-woman, came in the Sophomore class to case the joint. With the help of Pat Brydges, who came in the Junior class, the case was slowly being closed.

Charlie Bennett dragged David Braathen and Gary Dolstad back to the scene of the Big Confusion in our final year. The case was finally solved. The class will no longer bother poor innocent little waifs.

The class will graduate twenty-eight members out into the great world. Some may go on to college while others get jobs, but whatever they do, we know that the memories found in our class history will never be re-enacted but always remembered and cherished.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1954 of Langley High School, realizing that we are about to pass forever from these halls of learning to take our places in the higher strata of human existence, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

To the faculty of Langley High School we leave the many gray hairs that we have caused in the last four years.

I, DAVE BRAATHEN, leave my ability to leave such pleasant rotten-egg odors in the chemistry room to Mr. Jenkins.

I, CHARLES BENNETT, leave my ability to get easy classes to Carl Hjort.

I, BARBARA BECKER, leave my winning way with boys to Leota Surface.

I, MARIAN BURLEY, leave my gripes to Wayne Livingston, since he is always griping about them.

WE, PAT CAMPION AND PAT BRIDGES, leave our irresistible urge to bother couples in study hall during noon to Lynn Porter and Judy Drury, in hopes that they don't get the dirty looks we got.

I, ROBIN CHRISTOE, leave the discovery that "You Can't Take It With You" to the next class that tries.

I, RICKY DAY, will my ability to seem awake in Hamlet class to Mr. Torgerson, and my secrets of individualism to Mr. Jenkins, in hopes he enjoys it as much as I did.

I, GARY DOLSTAD, do hereby will my seat in fourth period study hall to anyone who has a wonder lust.

I, RERNA ERICKSON, leave my flirting abilities to Pat Erikson.

I, JOHN ERIKSON, will leave my blushing abilities to Bob Sandal, in hopes that he will perfect them.

I, MARLENE ENGSTROM, leave my ability to play the sousephone to Billy Meinhold, hoping he'll lose himself in it.

I, RONNIE GREEN, leave nothing because I want to take it all with me.

I, MARION HAPEMAN, leave to Delores Holms the alumni, in hopes she will treat them as well as I did.

I, LLOYD HEGGENES, leave my beautiful, beautiful blue eyes to my brother Norman, in hopes they cause him as much trouble as they did me.

I, DONNA HASCH, will my great dancing ability to Albert Grimm.

I, MICKEY LANKTREE, will my (natural) wavy hair to Don Berquist, in hopes it affects the girls for him like it did for me.

WE, DELLA TAYLOR AND ETHEL KNAPLUND, will our ability to rope a guy and tie him to Pat Lee and Judy Drury, in hopes that they have such luck.

I, DONNA OLSEN, leave my ability to drive to school and live, to Coach.

I, PAYTON RUDD, leave my ability to go fishing during school hours and get back in school without a 500 word theme to anyone lucky enough.

I, JOYCE RASMUSSEN, leave my dry jokes to anyone who has the courage to tell a joke that no one will laugh at.

I, JERRY SAYLOR, leave my ability to run errands for Mr. Jenkins to Wayne Livingston.

I, RUTH SAYLOR, will my doodlings to anyone who has to clean them up.

I, JIM SMITH, leave my shyness and ability to behave in class to Carl Surface.

I, LEM TRUMBULL, leave my cheerleading ability to Bev. Mills.

I, JAMES WALLACE, leave my 36 Chrysler, corkscrews, can openers, and my ability to chase Seattle girls to Ben Reams.

I, DENNIS WILSON, leave my tin grin to Gordon Heggennes because he needs it more than I do.

Special Events

Junior Prom and Homecoming

Mickey Lanktree and Donna Olsen were the two Langley High School students who were selected to reign over the 1953 Homecoming festivities, November 13-14. They were crowned during the Junior Prom. Princesses were Shirley Mills and Pat Camandona. Princes were Lem Trumbull and Dave Howard. The Homecoming was a grand success under the theme "Stairway To The Stars".

Senior Play

The seniors presented "You Can't Take It With You", December 12, 1953. Mumps, accident, measles and flu really kept them busy. The play went on with a few changes in the cast and a part "Harvey"ed in. But with all the trouble the cast, including Pat Camandon, Dave Braathen, Dennis Wilson, Jim Smith, Robin Christoe, (Donna Hasch), Marian Burley, Lloyd Heggenes, Mickey Lanktree, John Erickson, Gary Dolstad, Ronnie Green, Payton Rudd, Marion Hapeman, Berna Erickson, Lem Trumbull, Donna Olsen, Ricky Day, Marlene Engstrom, and Della Taylor all did a swell job under the direction of Miss Marilyn Strandwold.

Including the cast the other helpers were: Pat Brydges, Student Director; John Erickson, Ricky Day, Stage Managers; Ethel Knaplund, Make-up; Jerry Saylor, Prop Man, Barbara Becker, Ruth Saylor, Jim Wallace, and Joyce Rasmussen.

17 Christmas Concert

The Littlest Angel

By Charles Tagewell

Thursday evening at 8:00, December 17, 1953, Mr. R. E. Darst presented the annual Christmas Program.

As Tommy Christ-
os, The Littlest Angel, waited for admission through the Heavenly Gates the choruses swelled from the third, fourth, fifth,
sixth grades, high school's girls' chorus and sextette. The seventh and eighth grades were the angels. The mother and son were played by Marlene Engstrom and her brother, Tommy.

The story of
"The Littlest Angel"
was read and acted.
Complete with the heavenly music the concert was a grand success.

Junior Play

PROPS COMMITTEE

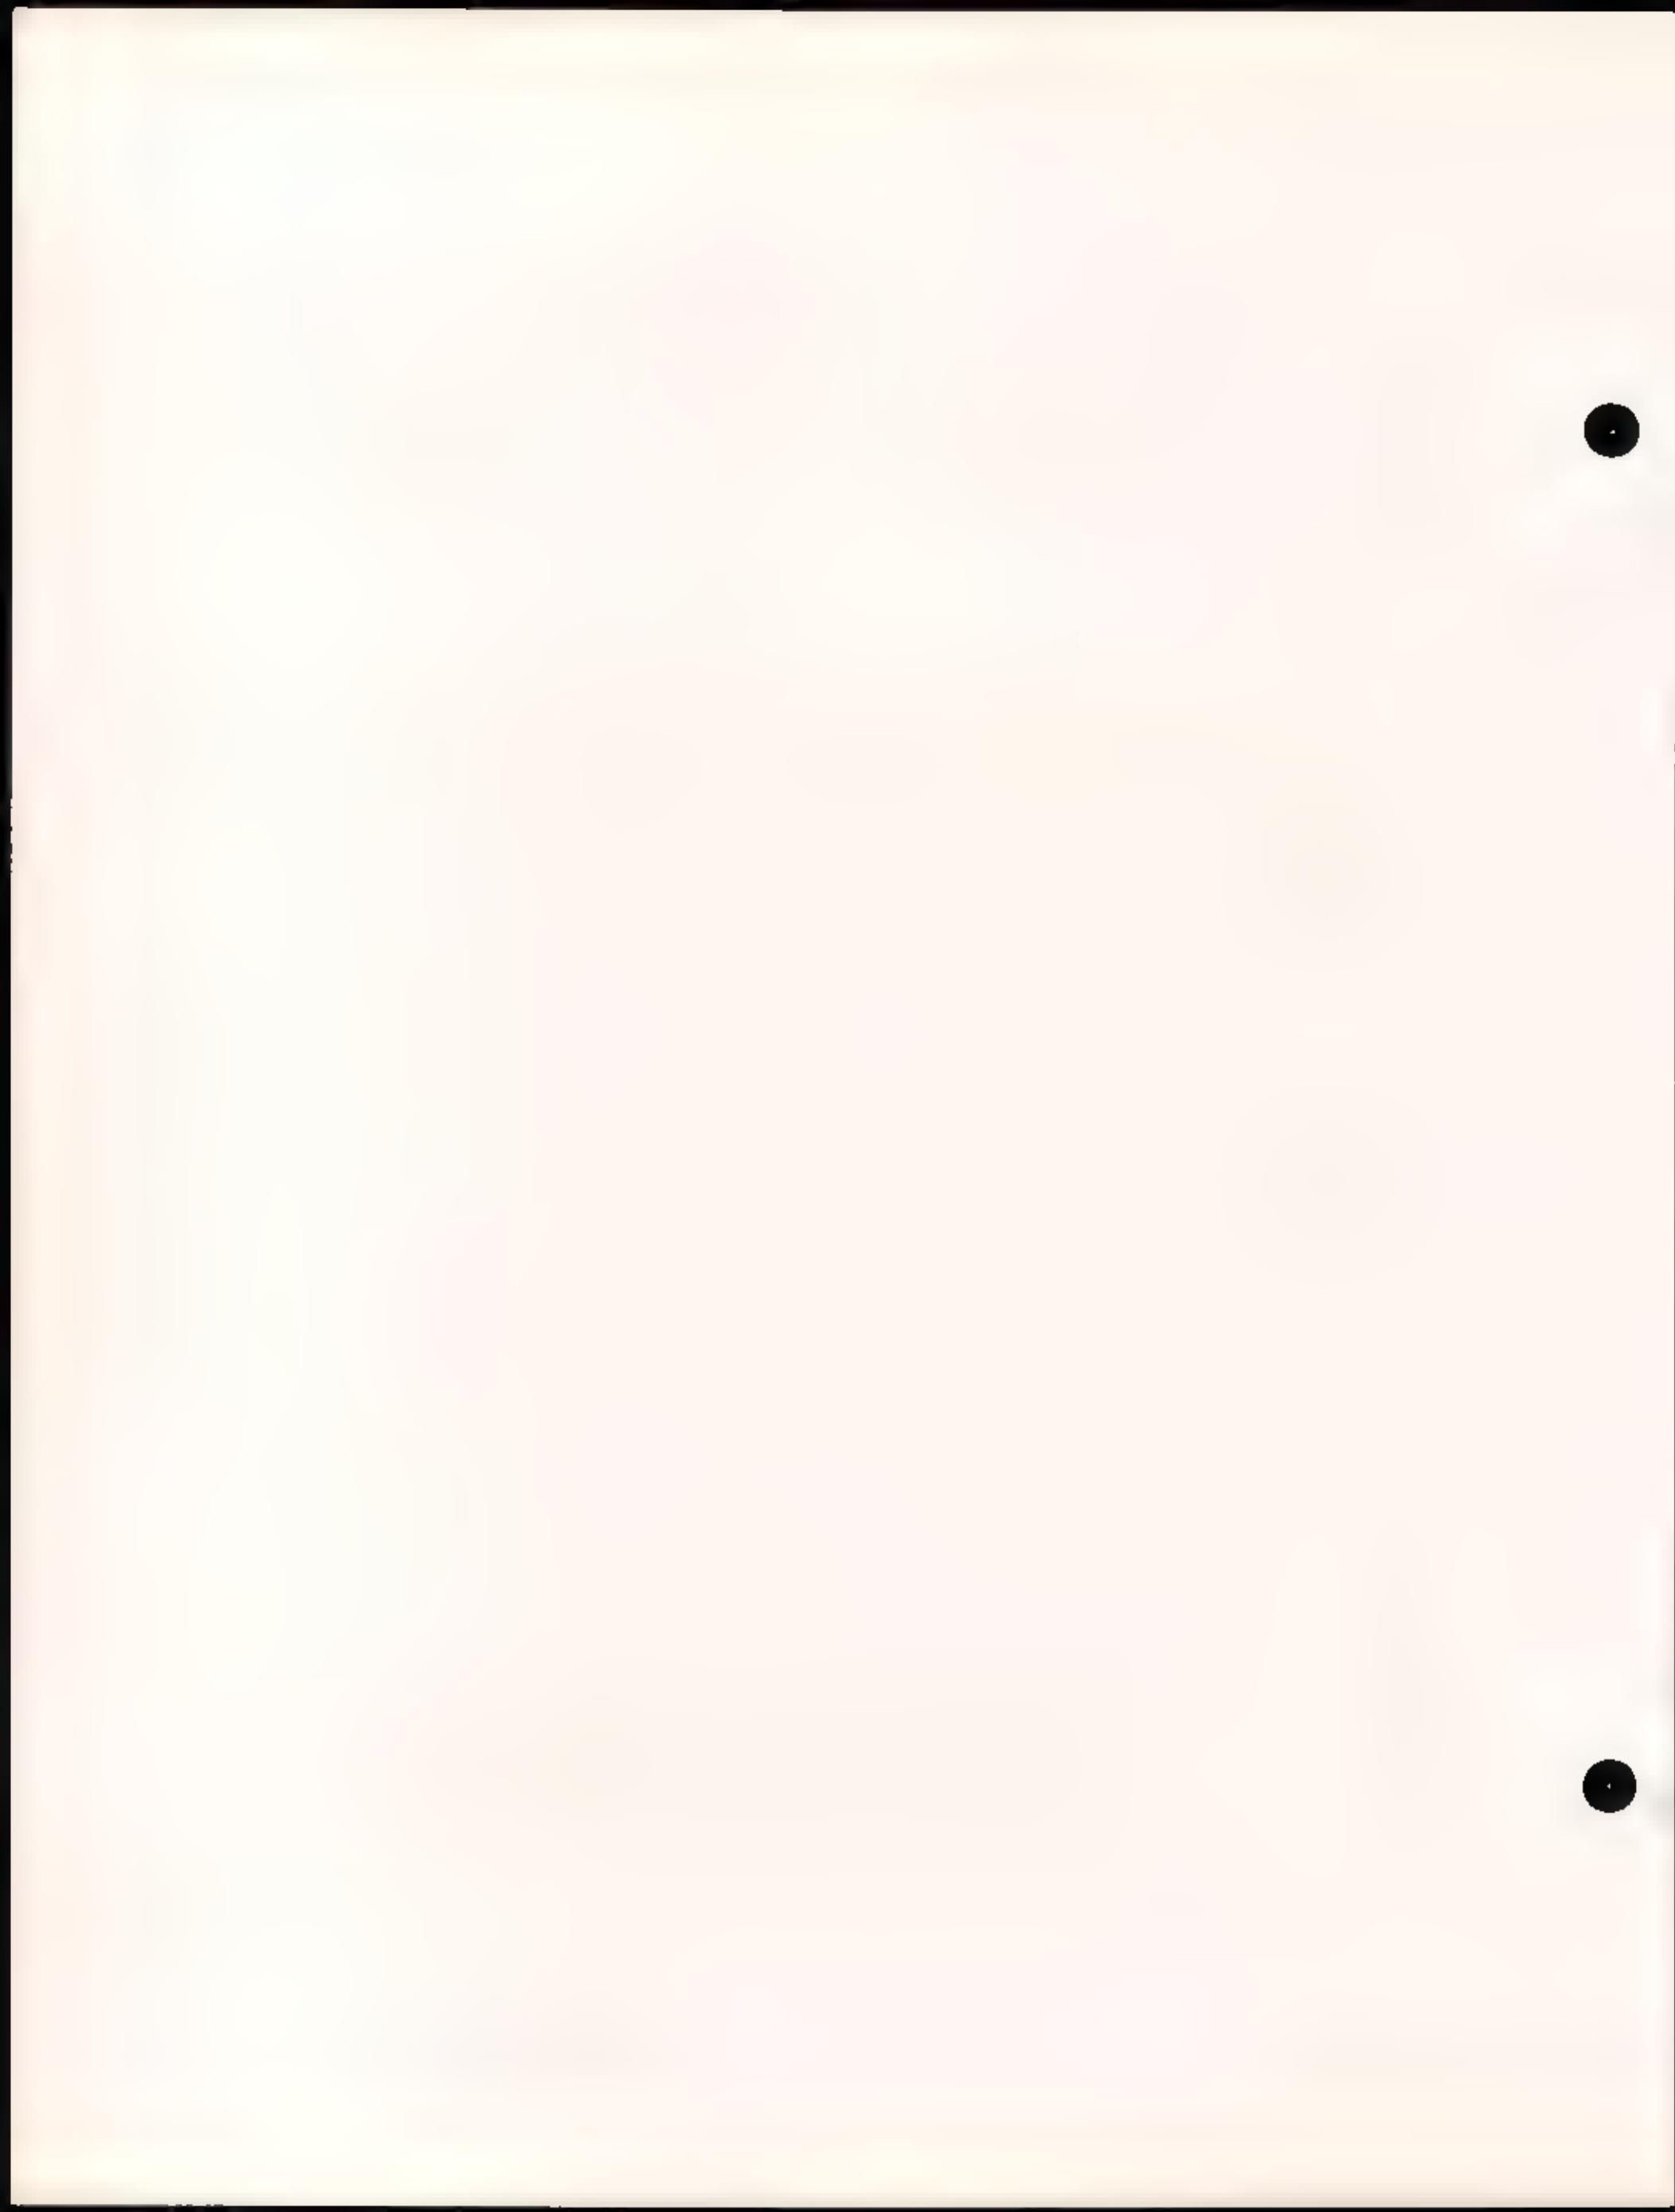

The Junior Class of '55 presented CLARENCE, a four act comedy on March 26, with the wonderful co-operation of the Student Director: Sandy Carlson. The Make-up Crew: Connie Nelson, Warene Hinton, Joan Guffey, Marlene Hagstrom, and Sandy Carlson. Props Committee: Mike Crane, Paul Pettijohn, Dick Randol, Joan Guffey, Gordon Heggernes, Dan Van Valkenburg, two seniors, Ronnie Green and Jerry Saylor and the chairman Marie Nordstrom.

The play was carried over as a big success, under the direction of Miss Marilyn Strandwold.

Under the watchful eyes of Coach Leierer the Falcon hoopsters for "54" had a fairly successful season, winning six and losing nine. Although not making it to the District Tournament these boys gave the crowd a thrill at every game.

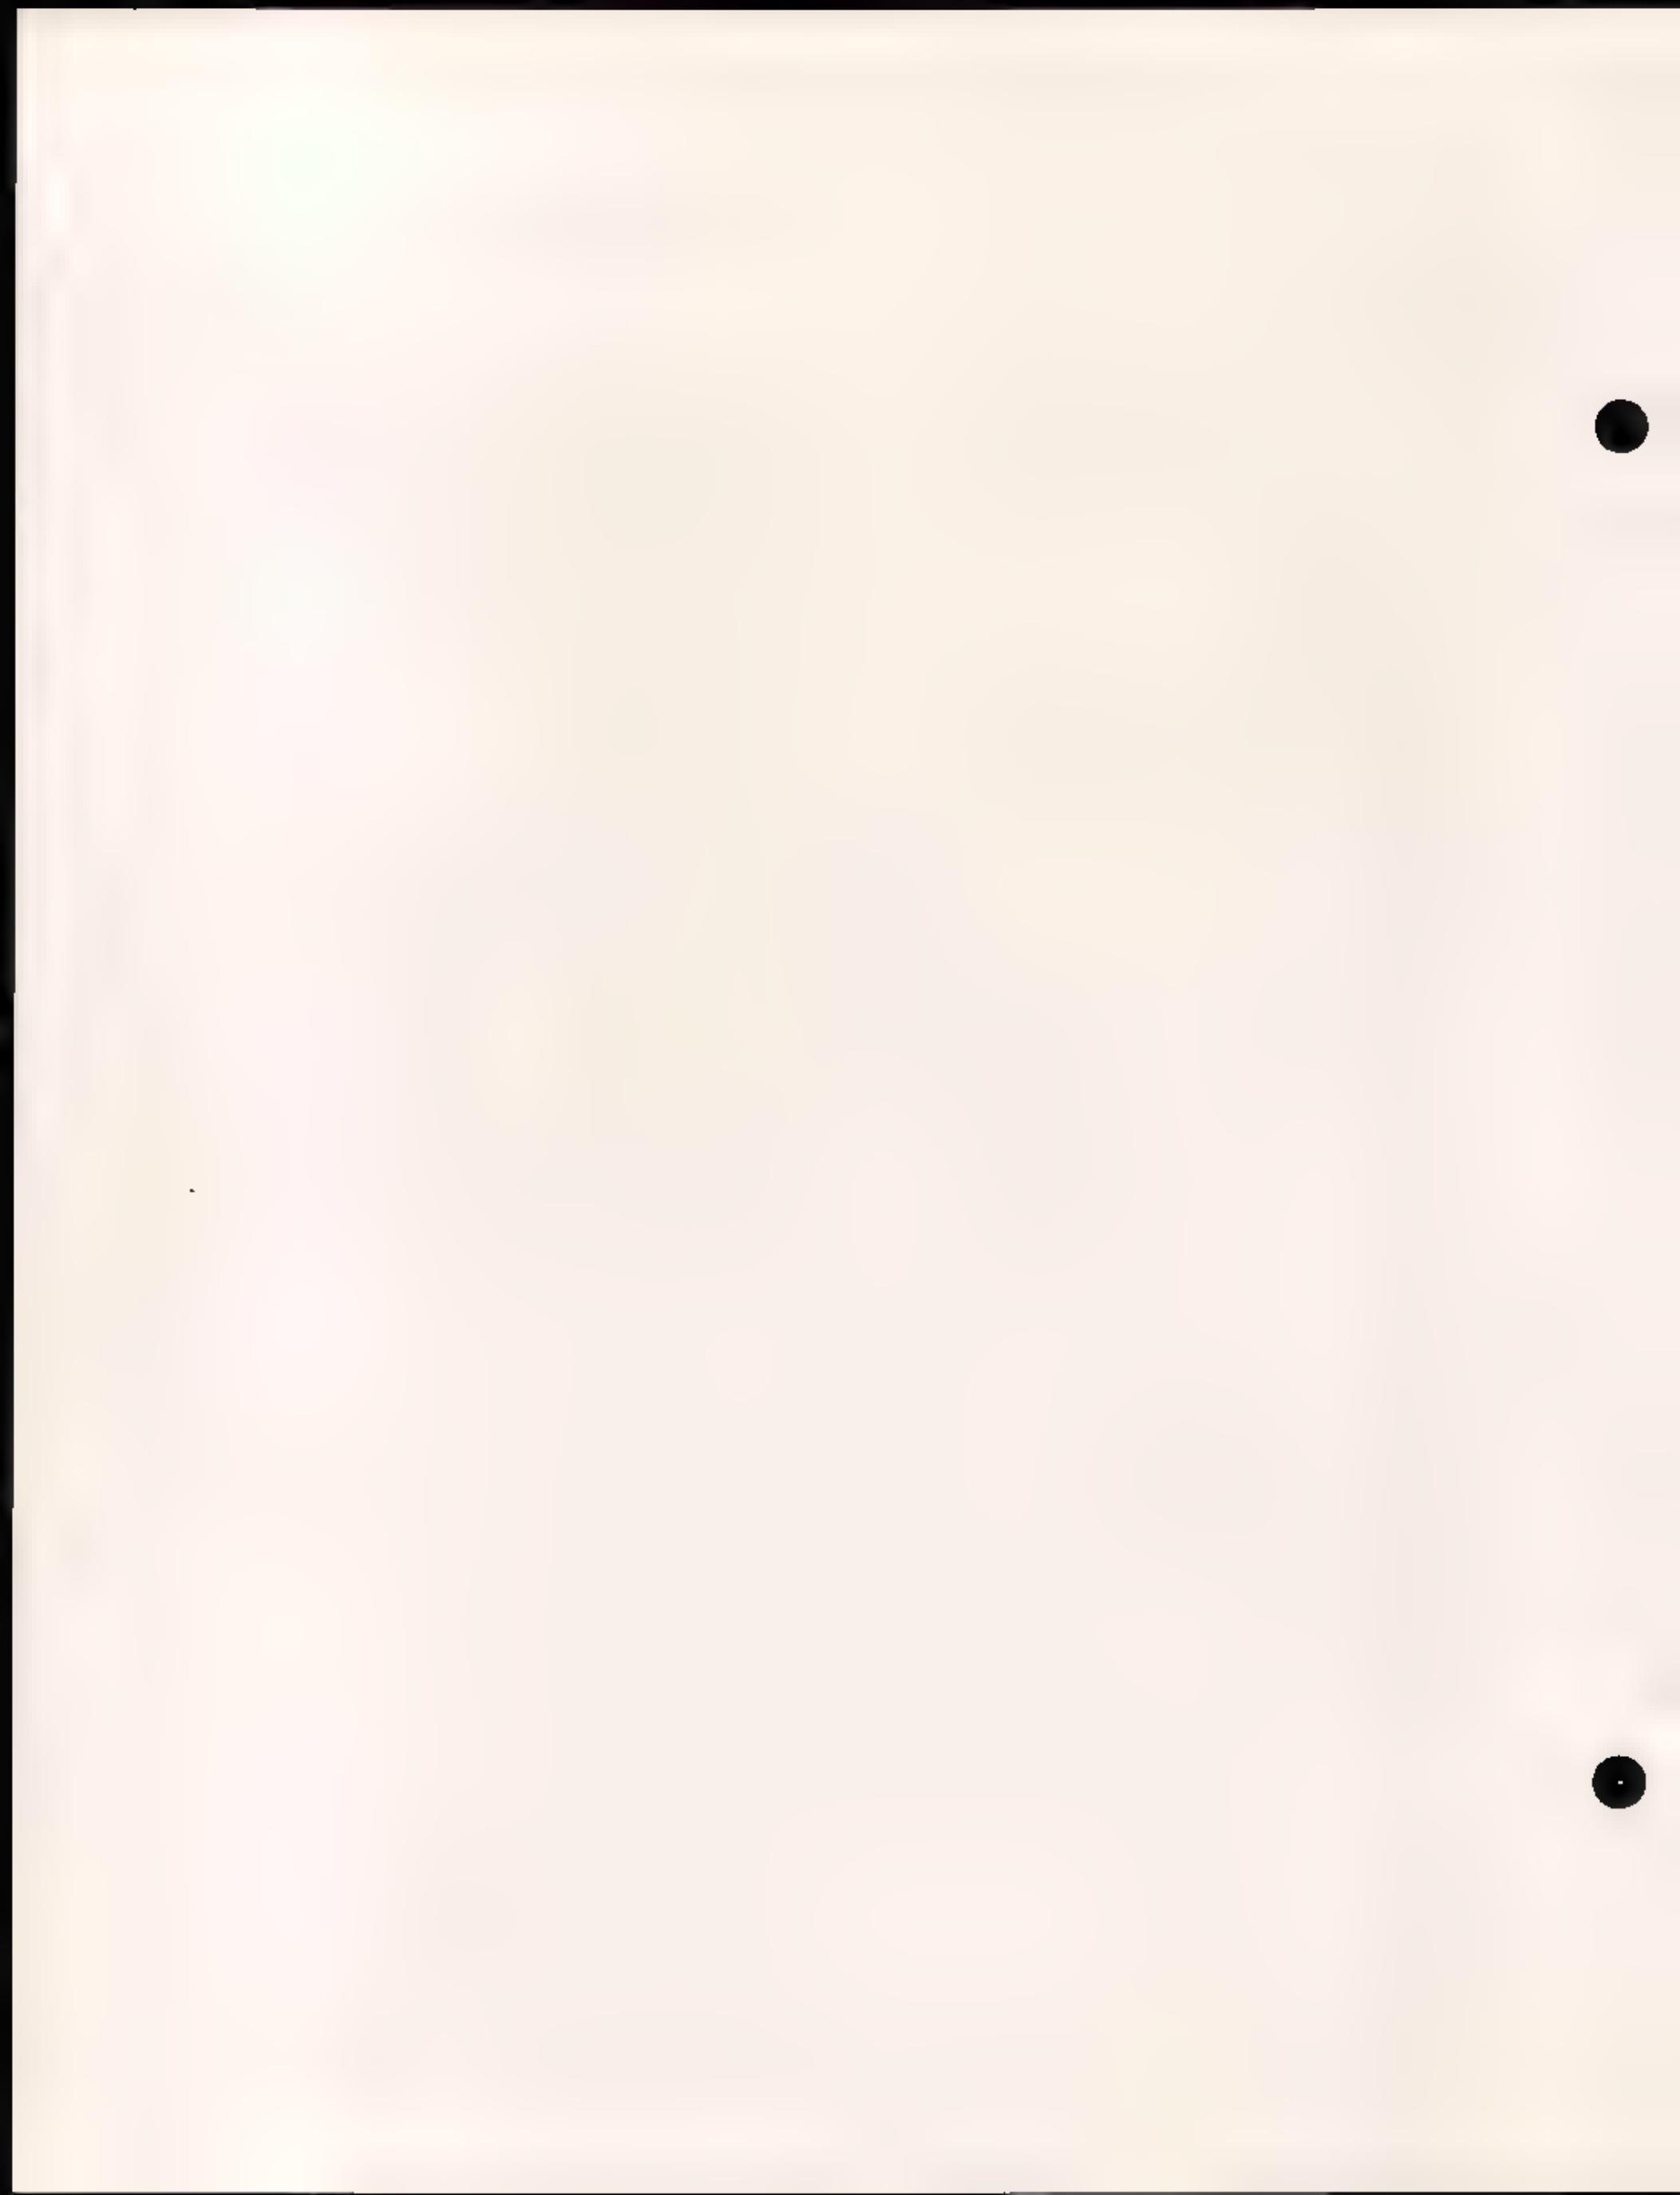

The Junior Varsity had a great season under Coach Covert, winning nine and losing five.

Next season should show Langley high in the standings as there are four returning lettermen and a whole bag full of reserve players.

Ivan Richardson was elected the most Inspiration-al player. *

1953 SCOREBOOK

Langley	5	Coupeville	3
Langley	10	Twin Cities	0
Langley	1	Oak Harbor	3
Langley	7	Coupeville	2
Langley	8	Oak Harbor	0
Langley	5	Oak Harbor	3
Langley	8	Twin Cities	1

JAMBOREE

Langley	2	Oak Harbor	1
Langley	11	Coupeville	9

For the first league game of the year, Langley got off on the right foot by downing the Coupeville Wolves 5-3. The second game Little pounded out a 10-0 victory over the Twin City Cards. Oak Harbor was tougher in the third game to beat us 3-1.

Langley again beat Coupeville this time by a 7-2 score.

Oak Harbor then went down swinging to the tune of 5-3.

Langley really showed their strength against Oak Harbor to come out with an 8-0 win to send us to the playoffs.

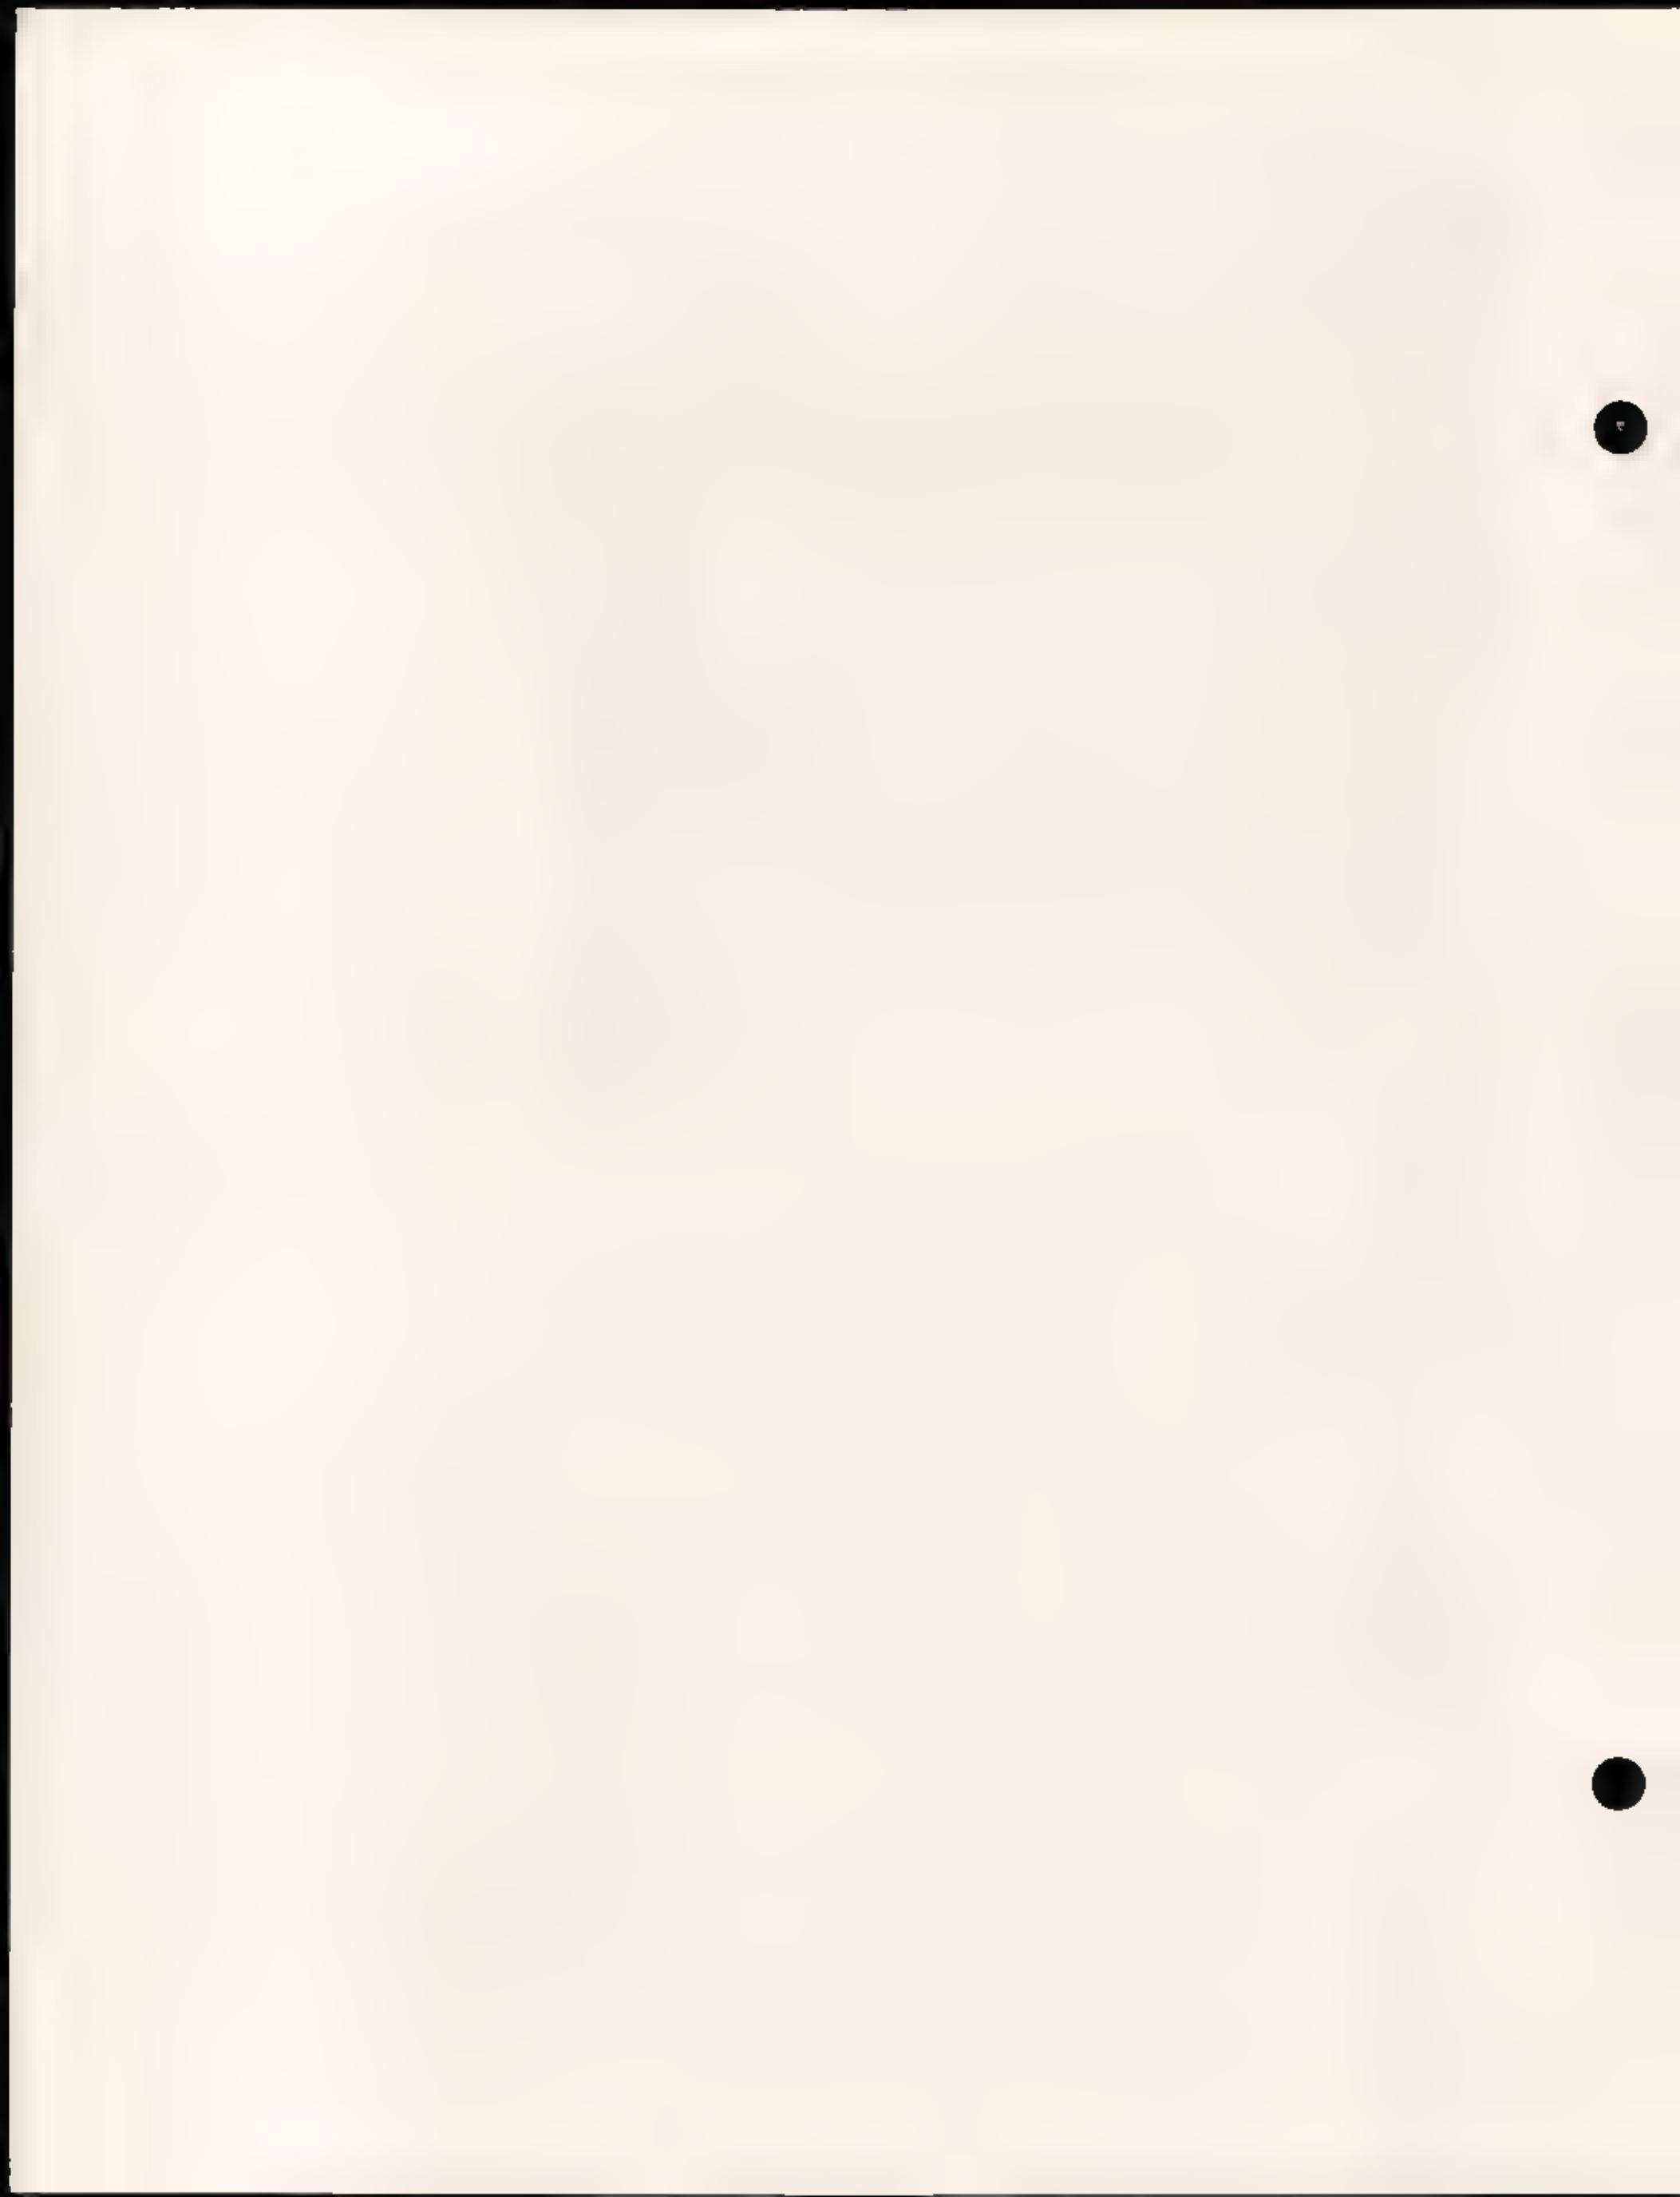

Falcons suffer second loss of 10-0 to Lake Stevens to come up as Co-Champions for B League for "53."

JAMBOREE

Langley defeated both Coupeville and Oak Harbor to win the jamboree the 4th straight year.

Dear Dan;
You are really a swell boy and I am glad to have you here. I hope you will have a very good year. Please make good use of your time. I hope you will have a good year.
Yours very truly
John D. Smith

P. S. I'll write again.
Sincerely
John D. Smith

Dear Dad & mother
How are you? I will tell you all so you will know what I will tell you most is the weather we are glad to get along but you're over to be decide to get invited school is going finally that come it too bad and if you hope I hope you will come the noisy will just swell
a whole page back to you Well do good back to you for this summer! Now Bois and water that comes little gal from getting married or you'll be getting married pretty soon. Don't get care at me for saying I'll say any you think

Well if you want me to write a whole page you will have better give me a little time to think about it. I like how you at real swell and I like how very much I see that as you wishes come true. I am the lake with you this summer I will have a date with you and wish all of them. I hope I can't wait Saturday June 4th. I hope you can read it

Page ~~one~~ as that you favored Dad

Loads of Luck to you

As ever
Alice
